The First Piece.....Piled High.

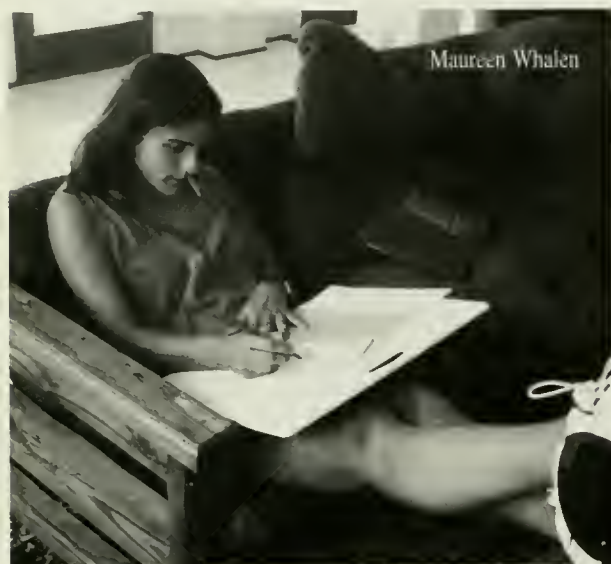

Everything you've ever dreamed of. What more could you want? Even critics would have to admit that we had it all. From plans for a new football stadium, a new library, six new houses in the Greek court and a new science building including the physical therapy school in 1998, there was no mistake- we were growing. Houses were turned into residence halls to fit all of our students into a space. Elon students are always worked in as the integral part of the Elon College Puzzle.—Leigh Worlds

New student check-in this year was as smooth as a cucumber. Well, a cucumber does have a few bumps. Anyway, there were 1,650 students living on campus.

This student finds a quiet place to kick up her heels and focus on her studies.

As of Dec. 12, no one wanted to pay the price of $200,000 to move the Haggard Avenue House built by the first dean of Elon Walter P. Lawrence. This was one of several college houses to be torn down, or moved, to build the new science building.

Living off campus is more of Cathy Hines' style.

How Everyone Fits In!

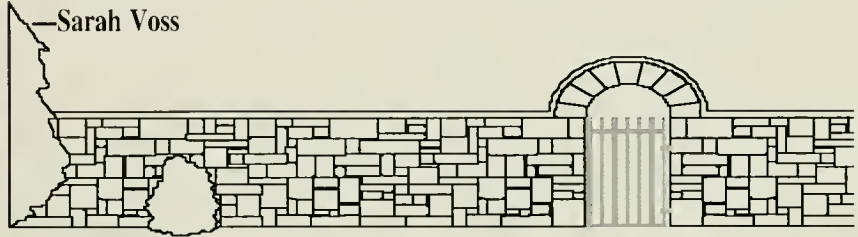

Residence hall life at Elon has drastically changed this year. The halls are still loud, people still have roommate problems, and there will always be something to cause a distraction from work and studies. The quality of living, though, has improved.

In Smith and Carolina residence halls, students were welcomed by freshly painted halls, new carpeting and new furniture. These halls also received laundry rooms and are currently housing both freshman and upperclassmen.

Due to increased enrollment, students are being housed in odd places. Some new accommodations include 19 freshman females living in the Haggard Avenue House, 8 males being housed in the old Campus Security Office and even some students being housed three per room in some halls.

Other accommodations for upperclassmen choosing to live off campus include East Campus apartments, Ashley Oaks, Oak Hill, Harmon, The Brittany, Sheridan, The Colony, and Trails End. No matter where students chose to live, they will have some advantages not found in other places and consequently a place will be made for every student enrolled at Elon College.

Back To School

Coming to Elon in August is an exciting experience for all students. Whether you are an incoming freshman, a transfer student, or a returning student, there are lots of things to be done in preparation for coming to Elon. New students arrive on campus and immediately begin a vigorous week of orientation, from meeting with their academic advisors to participating in Elon Day with all its outdoor activities. During these days there were games, activities for brother/sister halls, speakers, tons of meetings and a dance at the end of the week. Orientation is a helpful time for new students to learn their way around Elon's campus, make friends, and become adjusted to life away from home.

Returning students look forward to beginning another year at Elon and renewing their activities and friendships. The first several days are spent shopping for just the right things to make their room or apartment look and feel like home. Shopping at the Campus Shop is also a prevalent activity the first few weeks of school in order to buy books for classes. It's not hard to walk out of the Campus Shop with over $300 in books and supplies for fall semester alone. Returning to Elon means liberty, independence and all the fun and headaches that come with it.

Once again, the Adventures in Leadership preschool program allowed freshmen to bond over the summer by participating in an outdoor experience.

Places That Fell & Rose Again

New additions ...same old pride

This fall the changes on campus have run rampant—from building modifications to decisions that govern the school. Announcement was made that the athletic program will move from NCAA division II to division I-AA; Health Services began charging students and staff for prescriptions; six new Greek houses are being constructed in the Greek court for occupation in fall of 1997; and the new science building started to rise across from Holland House in March.

Next are plans for the new library that will stand where the power plant and Health Services is located and a football stadium at North campus where the soccer field is found.

The tasty addition of Elon's College Coffee Shop, which replaced the furniture store located on Williamson Avenue, has become a cozy habitat for local entertainment while eating. And McEwen Dining Hall, which was expected to be renovated by October, finally reopened during Winter Term featuring Little Caesar's, a deli and dining for 150.

There's a definite outbreak of changes at Elon, and to play it safe, campus police were added to the staff and allowed to carry a gun when responding to a call.

(far left) Sigma's house is currently among the six in the Greek Court, and six more are projected to be finished by fall of 1997.

They don't sell furniture here anymore! But they do sell appetizing items at Elon's College Coffee Shop.

Mark Ziegler, manager of College Coffee, and Chip try to get everything in its proper place so McEwen can reopen by Winter Term.

The Place For Tradition

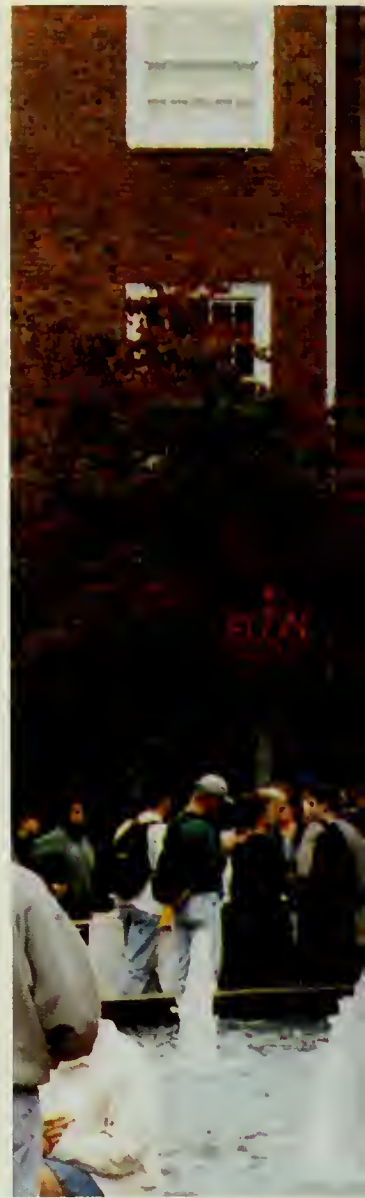

Annual events continue to grow

It never fails. Come rain or shine, there's going to be College Coffee on Wednesday at 9:20 a.m... The Adventures In Leadership preschool experience will help bond the new freshman class...There will be at least two blood drives... The luminaries and Christmas lights will make the campus aglow...and the list goes on.

This year, over 200 pints of blood were donated at the fall blood drive, which surpassed Elon's goal, but unfortunately only 900 of the planned 1,600 luminaries were lit due to rain.

On the same day, the rain didn't stop the Holiday Reception at President Young's house. A shuttle from Moseley Center to the Maynard House was provided for students who were greeted at the front door of the immaculate brick home by the president's wife. Guests first entered the dining room with the table spread with fruit, bean dip, deserts, and punch or cider. After filling their plates, they were invited to tour the house making their way to the president at the fireplace, donning reindeer antlers and waiting to have his photograph made with them.

A few days later, the Snow Ball dance was in full swing in McKinnon Hall as the D.J. provided entertainment. From preschool experiences to chatting around the fountain to graduating under the oaks, everyone at Elon has the opportunity to take part in its ever-growing traditions.—Felicia Massey Noted for the location of Wednesday's College Coffee, Fonville Fountain is the center attraction for making memories at Elon.

This is what the luminary lighting would have looked like if all 1,600 were lit this year. Due to rain, only 900 were used on main campus.

The Place To Work!

The Special Events staff from Campus Recreation took advantage of a sunny day to register participants for the Turkey Trot to promote wellness.

This Elon student seems happy enough to have a job on campus. He works in The Iris Holt McEwen Library.

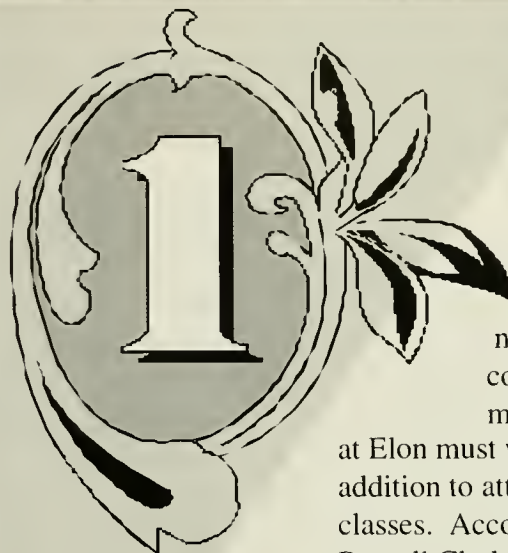

Kristin Bobbitt and Lauren Klusewicz are among the 27 Moseley Center workers. From scheduling rooms to registering students for the shuttle service to operating the gameroom, they have plenty to manage.

Sophomores Eric and Seth work as dishwashers at Brown & Company on Williamson Avenue. The work is hard but it is worth it all on pay day.

In order to meet the financial needs of college life, most students at Elon must work in addition to attending classes. According to Payroll Clerk Kathy Ball, over 600 students were employed by the college fall semester. Campus Recreation alone employed about 125 students to operate its facility. Many students work on campus to help cover the costs of books and huge phone bills.

This year, students were a little more excited about working when the minimum wage went from $4.25 to $4.75 even if the college wasn't quite budgeted for it.—Shelley Sparks

From Place to Place

When Students are constantly on the move, transportation becomes an important factor. For students with cars, getting to where they want to go is no problem. Those without cars have to walk, run, bike, rollerblade or catch rides with friends to classes, campus activities and parties.

All kinds of problems can arise for students continually on the go. Whether its the hunt for a parking spot (especially when it rains), tripping over a brick, or falling off of a bike, most forms of transportation involve some sort of risk.

The most bizarre things can happen when students are in a rush to get somewhere. One student was pecked on the knees by a duck after teasing it near Lake Mary Nell. Another student was hit by a truck while biking to campus.

Most students are able to find a way to get where they are going without many problems. However, some students seem to find it easier than others when it comes to transportation here at Elon. —Betty Carroll

Dana and Eric McCrickard get their exercise and get to class too.

Megen Wessel

Walking is the most popular mode of transportation on campus. It's probably now that a crossing light was installed this year.

Demonstrating the amazing ability to ride a bike, these Elon students show it's the only way to go.

History Senior

Senior year is the culmination of four, five or even six years of study. It is a time to be with friends, look toward the future and make life shattering decisions. College is a time to dream, love, prepare and think. The last year is often the most important in a student's life. Senior Year is college life.

Spring break (1996) is a great time for one last trip before graduation. Seniors Lynn Terrell, Pat Cunningham, Amy Freeman, Kristin Swain and Mara Birnbaum escape to John Pennecamp Park in Key Largo Florida for a week of camping.

Hanging out and relaxing are a big part of a senior's life. Kim Briggs and her friends Megan McMullen and Banks Dixon hang out at Ashley Oaks Apartments.

The Crush! Being a senior wouldn't mean anything if you hadn't attended a few great parties. Dave, Natalie Grooms, Banks Dixon, Pat Cunningham, Andrea Partland, Brad Robertson, Lynn Terrel, Shannon Stevens, Park Fowlkes attend a great party.

Studying abroad is an experience that no senior should leave college without. A winter in England in 1996 is just what Jim, Sara Fhar and Lori Vallencourt need before graduating and entering the real world.

Another party is just what the doctor ordered after a frightful hurricane. Andrea Partland, Kristin Swain, Spence Moore, Chris Brumbaugh, Dan Blair.

Class trips are often an asset to attending college. The Black Mountain ethnography trip was appreciated by this group of seniors.

Best friends are a neccessity. Lynn Terrell and Mara Birnbaum found friendship here at Elon.

As always students travel in packs, especially when food is involved. Students crowd the tables during Elon's famous College Coffee every Wednesday morning.

Freshmen. Sophomores. Juniors. Seniors. Teachers. Secretaries. Coaches. Administrators. Counselors. Maintenance Staff. Food Service workers. Librarians, are all part of what makes Elon home. Piece by Piece, both diverse and talented, the people here are what made the difference. Working together to make the college into the best it could be. Everyone from the beginning freshmen to the College alumni had a goal in sight, to make everything

Faculty and Staff: A Part of the Puzzle!

Here at Elon College the closeness of students and faculty plays a major part in the overall environment found on campus. The kinship between the staff and students cannot be matched anywhere. Whether it is a late night study session in Carlton or a phone call to a professor the night before a big exam, the faculty and staff of Elon go out of their way to help a struggling student succeed in all activities in and around campus. The professors at Elon care about their students and it shows! These reasons and many more make Elon what it is and only begin to describe why we love it!

Elon 101 students have dinner at the home of their adviser, Bob Guffey.

L'Tanya Richmond,

campus it is almost always possible to see professors in deep, passionate discussions regarding their fields of expertise.

Students, find time to study for psychology class on a bright and beautiful day outside of the new Tri-Sigma house in the Greek Court.

A Piece of Work.....A Piece of Mind.

Nine months of the year, one hour forty-minute classes. Students learned from the first homework assignment to the final exam, work was part of every class. Developing skills and learning facts, taking tests and writing poems, students learned many new things. Sometimes exciting, sometimes boring, academics covered it all. Though they were not easy, most students found a few classes that were intellectually stimulating.

DOING
THE
THANG!

Sometimes the only way to get studying done is to bury yourself between the books in the library.

Cool off. The fountain is not just a beautiful sight, it can calm you down before a test.

Watch Out! Balance your studies and your life in front of Alamance building.

says you have to be crammed up in a room to y? Being outside can be just as productive.

Computers are a must! Kevin Brand takes a moment to check out a program on Windows.

IT'S Study TIME

When do you have time to study? Where do you go? Many Elon students have to escape to their rooms to catch some quiet time to prepare for classes. Sure, the library can be great, but on a nice day, how about outside? Maybe like these students, you find relaxing at the Fonville Fountain in front of Alamance building a positive study environment. In any case, it is a "dirty deed" that we all must eventually do--why not make it interesting?

When some students find they are tired of learning in the same old building, at the same time, they discover a new place with new scenery. Studying abroad could be just the escape you were looking for. Seeing the Eiffel Tower, exploring a museum, or visiting The Beatles in a wax museum are just a few of the adventures that await you on one of Elon's diverse study abroad courses.

Elon Turns 100.....Again!

Along with “Money Mind” Philip Carret, Elon celebrated a belated 100th birthday. A time capsule was buried in the Moseley Student Center under the college seal and will remain buried until the year 2089. The capsule was created and sealed in 1989 and has been waiting to be buried in the perfect spot until now.

Registrar Mark Albertson issued the invitation to Philip Carret after seeing him on a television show and again in a newspaper article. Philip Carret, 100 “year” old Harvard graduate and Army Signal Corps veteran, spoke to the business department and at the time capsule ceremony on November 29th.

All who attended were impressed with the extent of Philip Carret’s knowledge and his life. Refreshments were served afterwards.

Time for photographs. Moseley Center is the perfect place to mark this historic event.

Throughout the celebration food and friends made the day even more enjoyable.

All this celebrating made for the perfect place to meet new people. Ward Culver, Student Government Association President mingles.

Elon's 'Mind The Gap' Staff, Faculty, Trustees...

This was the first group from Elon to spend a week in London. They stayed in the "flats" photographed. This was a great bonding experience for everyone.

Big Ben is one of the many beautiful sights in London. The architecture and ornate buildings are quite fascinating to the eyes of an American.

In London

Tour guide at the London Tower

The Tower Bridge, completed in 1894.

The first day in London, all the Eloners piled into a bus (like the one photographed) and toured London that afternoon. Several folks could hardly stay awake after flying for eight hours and getting very little rest on the plane.

It was approximately 7:30 a.m. when the Continental airplane landed at Gatwick airport in London, and 35 of Elon's faculty/staff/trustees dismounted for a week of adventure. The next group of 35 would arrive a week later.

Out of over 100 applicants, Elon selected 70 to travel to London for a week to get a taste of what it's like to study abroad. Each participant had to pay $300 to help cover travel expenses, $65 for a passport, and about $20 for a weekly "tube" (subway) pass. Everyone was also responsible for his/her food, but Elon graciously covered the other costs to make the trip an affordable chance of a lifetime.

The itinerary included tourist attractions such as Big Ben, Windsor Castle, Tower of London, St. Paul's Cathedral, British Museum, and many more things like plays and musicals. Some of the travelers also decided to venture to Paris and Bath.

Each day brought new experiences and friendships that wouldn't happen during a normal workday at Elon.

This was a week made of memories, from learning to keep your curling iron on low if you didn't want to burn the hair off your head, to rooming with someone you'd never met on campus, to "minding the gap" at the subway, to paying 20 pence to use the public restroom, to sampling a baked potato topped with pork-n-beans and cheese.

A big Thanks to Elon for making a dream come true.

WORKING

Arna Majcher

Do you hear “America singing?” If so, you were probably one of the many who attended Elon’s fall musical “Working,” written by Studs Turkel.

Catherine McNeela directed the colorful and classy show that proved that no one is “just a housewife.” It depicted waitressing as more than a job, but a grand experience, a show with an audience to match.

Did you ever wonder who did the brickwork on “that house” you always passed, or wonder about the fireman you saw on the corner? “Working” showed that people are more than just a label of their job; they’re specific people with individual lives who are proud of their work.

With talented voices and catchy 70s music, “Working” captured the audience with its stories and songs, proving again that Elon’s musical theatre programs are constantly growing and moving farther ahead. —Arna Majcher

Prep work doesn’t always involve the set. Oftentimes the preparation work depends fully on the cast members themselves.

Working ain’t “easy street.” But dreams can come true, as they do for actors Amy Spillane and Julius John.

igient driver, Julius John, takes pride in his work. Although not ght of as a real job, he takes his responsibility very seriously.

You have to get to work somehow—try a bus. The cast re-enacts their soleful ride to work.

The cast poses a question to the audience: "Hey somebody, do you want to hear the story of our lives?"

It isn't all fun and games backstage. These actors try to relax before the first curtain call.

The BAND Scene

Alan Smithee Band is "A sound not bound by everyday stylistic conceptions, the members of the band captivate thier audience through playful jams and solid orchestrations. Based in Elon College, NC, the Alan Smithee Band seeks to blend multiple musical approaches into a vibrant and dynamic whole." Members include Elon Graduates: Chad Snyder, Molly McGinn, Jimmy Scalise, accompanied by keyboardist Baxter Smith, and drummer Mark Matherly.

Backseat Driver is also an Elon-based band that has a versatile musical talent and a mixture of musical styles. They are currently recording their first full album which will consist of some great Backseat Driver original songs. Members of the band include Chris Brumbaugh, David Ray, Doug Marshall and Bryan Powell.

The Light House, located in Elon, is a local hangout for many of the college's student population. During the week many of the town's musical talent use the LightHouse to showcase their talents.

The Macarena hit all the charts- from Latin to Pop-and enlivened dance floors all over the world. The song was first released three years ago and came a big hit in Spain. Numerous versions have added variations to the basic moves of the dance, which requires a 360-degree turn to be completed in four jumps to the right.

Many Elon students take part in an activity called disc golf. One of the many courses available in the area is this one, located in CedaRock Park.

Sixteen-year-old Chelsea Clinton hit the campaign trail with her father, the President of the United States. She did not play an active role in the presidential campaign, but all of her limited appearances were great successes. She tried to keep a quiet private life. She attended private school in Washington and her constant Secret Service escort did not leave much freedom for parties and dances.

On October 11-13, the AIDS Memorial Quilt & The Names Project came to Washington D.C. The quilt was laid out for all to view.

Olympics in Atlanta

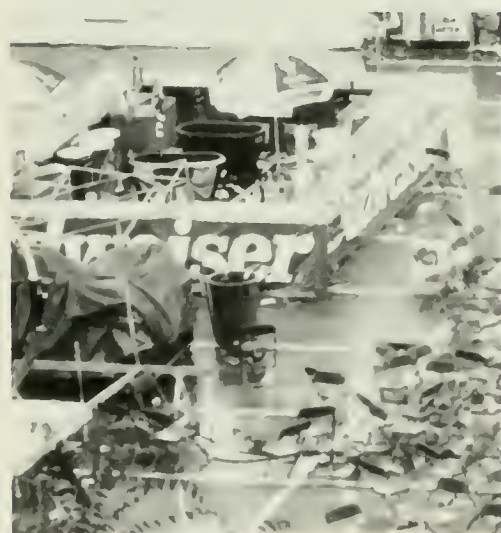

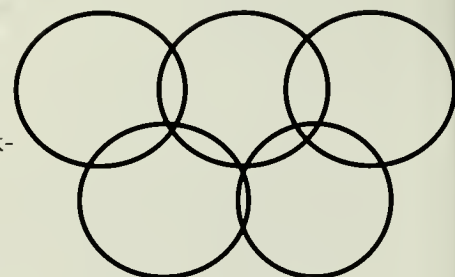

The seven members of the U.S. women's gymnastics team won the most unlikely of gold medals in a very unlikely fashion. Team member Kerri Strug made the medal clinching vault on a bad ankle and became an Olympic heroine the instant she landed. Her coach, Bela Karolyi, carried the injured athlete to the victory stand to receive her medal.

Olympic Gold medal winner Michael Johnson has what track coaches call speed endurance--the ability to carry top speed. He proved he had endurance-plus. Johnson had an unprecedented double win in the Summer Olympics in Atlanta. He won the 200 and 400 meter races. He was also the overwhelming favorite in the 600 meter race but weakened by a case of food poisoning, he failed to qualify for the finals.

A deadly explosion disrupted the Olympic Games in Atlanta. Just as the games were turning Atlanta into a giddy metropolis overflowing with tourists, a black-powered pipe bomb packed with nails exploded in the crowded Centennial Olympic Park. One person died instantly and another died of a heart attack. More than 100 people were injured. As the school year opened, no one had been charged with the crime.

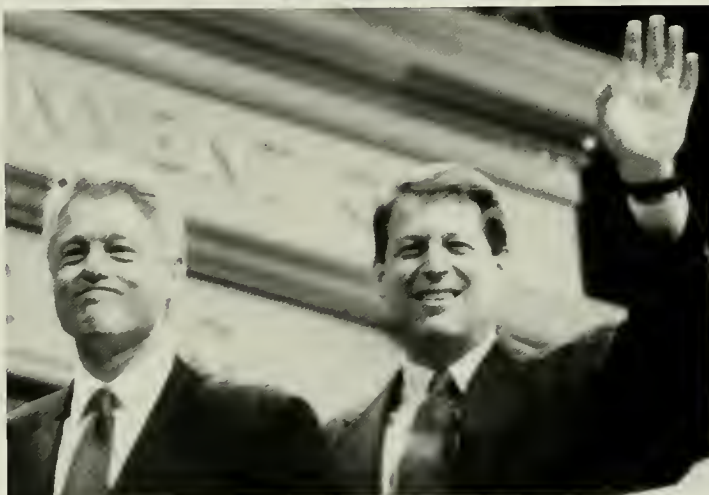

National News

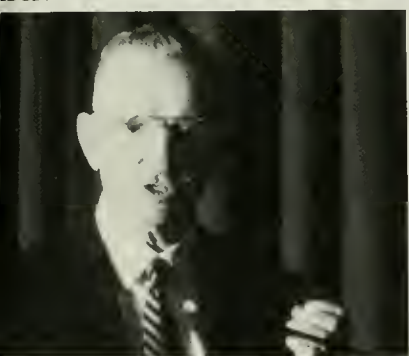

Bob Dole retired after 35 years in Congress to devote himself full time to running for president. At the age of 73, the former senator from Kansas could have been the oldest person elected to a first term as president. As his running mate he picked Jack Kemp, an active Republican and former cabinet member. Dole and Kemp promised to give President Clinton a "run for his money." They attacked the president's character and ethics while promoting the Republican 15 percent tax cut.

President Bill Clinton and Vice President Al Gore maintained a strong and consistent lead in the polls during their campaign for four more years at the White House. The Democratic team campaigned on a "four more years" platform that featured a strong economy and a lower crime rate. During his first term, Clinton formed a very close partnership with Gore, who served as confidant and adviser.

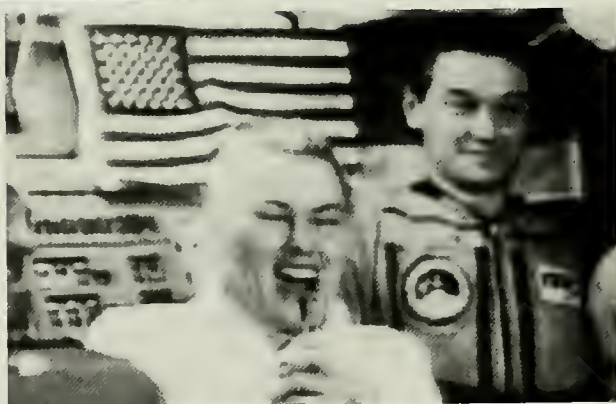

Election

Ross Perot, who four years earlier won more votes than any other independent Presidential candidate in 80 years, launched a campaign as the 1996 nominee of the Reform Party. The 66-year-old Texas billionaire was a less formidable figure than he was in 1994, but a very vocal candidate nevertheless.

Hillary Rodham Clinton shied away from confrontation. The 48-year-old First Lady championed the massive health-care reform plan but it never became law. She buried the image of a super-activist First Lady and became a model of the traditional political spouse.

Shannon Lucid is a new record holder. The 53-year-old shuttle astronaut veteran set the women's record for consecutive days in orbit--188--beating Russian cosmonaut Elena Kondakova. She also amassed 223 days in orbit since 1995, making her America's most experienced astronaut.

MUSIC NEWS

Alanis Morissette has talent that seems to know no limit. Her debut album, "Jagged Little Pill," attracted considerable attention thanks to the hit single "You Oughta Know," a fiery, graphic rant at a former boyfriend. She delivers deeply personal lyrics with a dramatic voice and a dynamic rhythm.

Three years ago, Jewel was a fledgling singer-songwriter living on carrots and peanut butter sandwiches. Now, the 22-year-old performer from Alaska is a smashing success. Her debut album of bittersweet folk songs, "Pieces of You," just went platinum. Jewel sings many of the songs on the album in a crystalline voice while playing her acoustic guitar.

Monica may be young, but she knows about attitude. She says she is confident, intelligent, self-possessed and self-assured. "Miss Thang" is her debut hit with Roudy Records. The critics say, "It's a potent, persuasive and personal statement from a young woman who's heading up the new breed of R&B singers." She was born and raised in Atlanta and began by singing in her local church choir.

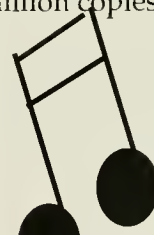

The Fugees hit the charts with their best-selling album "The Score." One critic said: "The Fugees sound, style and spirit, without question, goes a long way to dispel the stereotypical approach to making urban melodies.

Three years ago Dave Mathews, a southern American who settled in Virginia as a teenager, put together a quintet that became one of the biggest draws on the concert circuit. The Dave Mathews Band brought funk into the mainstream, as one critic said. And non-traditional instruments, such as the violin and the sax, expanded the band's sound and universal appeal.

Hootie & the Blowfish was once described as a well-meaning four-piece band from South Carolina who made a pleasant but otherwise remarkable album that should have sold maybe a million copies and instead sold more than 13 million. Hooties and the group produced "Fairweather Johnson" and "Cracked Rear View."

Hyped as the most popular British band since the Beatles, Oasis is a million-dollar selling rock band that is about to begin work on its third album. After abruptly cancelling a U.S. tour, they denied reports that the group would split up. The group's first two albums have sold 20 million copies.

MORE MUSIC NEWS

Celine Dion had the amazing good fortune of taking two movie songs—"Beauty and the Beast" and "Because You Loved Me" (from Up Close and Personal) and took them to the top of the charts. The Canadian performer has a dynamic voice that raises even the most modest material to a level of loveliness. Her latest release, "Falling Into You" was a runaway hit.

An R&B pop singer named Toni Braxton hit the charts about three years ago and has not left since. Her latest album "Secrets," blends her rich smooth voice with a versatility that continues to grow with each new hit. "Secrets" has the firepower to carry Toni to the top.

Tracy Chapman was back on the charts with her latest album "New Beginning." As one critic wrote: "One thing Tracy Chapman has inevitably gained over the years is polish. This new album is simply and impeccably orchestrated, tightly and urbanely played. The songs are adorned with soft jazz accoustics."

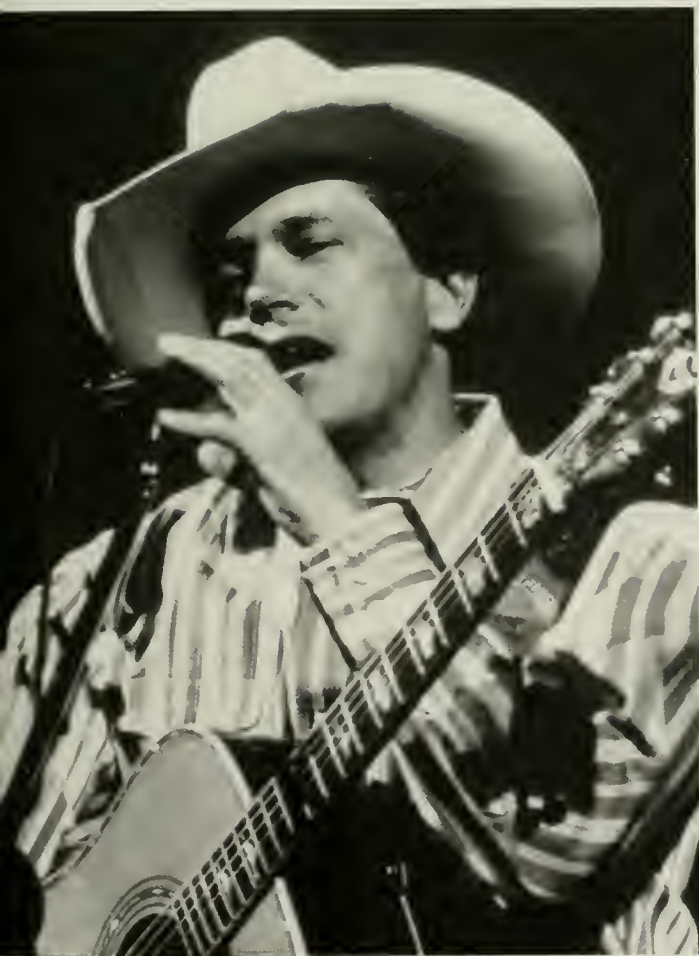

Mariah Carey was only a teenager when a Columbia record executive heard her demo tape and signed her up. Her first album soared to the number two spot and the rest is history. It has been solid gold ever since. When Mariah performs, her voice takes command over the large band and battalion of backup singers. Her latest album "Daydream" went all the way to the number one position on the charts.

"The Woman In Me" was Shania Twain's biggest hit album of the year. It was the second album released by the Canadian singer, but it was by far the biggest hit. It went platinum and stayed on the Billboard Top 200 for more than a year. She won the New Country Artist of the Year award at the American Music Awards Show. As one critic said: "Shania has changed the face of country music for women everywhere."

George Strait began recording hit songs over 25 years ago. He's still at it. Every one of his more than 20 albums for MCA records went at least gold and his total sales are now about 30 million albums. His latest hit "Blue Clear Sky" is well on its way to gold sales.

Peace in the Middle East remained unstable as the school year began. A crisis erupted after Israel opened a new exit in a tunnel alongside a plateau, raising suspicions among Muslims that the Israelis were seeking to change the delicate religious balance in Jerusalem's old city. Demonstrations followed where nearly 100 people were killed. Then emergency meetings were arranged by President Clinton in Washington between Benjamin Netanyahu and Yasir Arafat.

The stock market surged to record highs as the school year began. It was a continuation of one of the greatest bull markets in history. The Dow Jones industrial average hit record highs in late September, and closed over 6,000 in October. The spark that kept the market moving upward was news that suggested that the economy was slowing down, thus keeping interest rates low.

Students gather to celebrate the holidays at the annual Snow Ball, a dance sponsored by student organizations, with the profits from ticket sales going toward a worthy charity.

These Elon students attended the NCLC Reunion at camp Miniwanca in Michigan.

Organizations can always be found in the Moseley Center lobby raising money for some philanthropy. In this case, the brothers of Sigma Pi are raising funds to help with leukemia research.

This cross country team member knows what it means to work hard for something you love. His hard work and enthusiasm are evident at a meet.

Bus loads and van loads of athletes and fans would head towards Carson Neuman. Every coach, every player, every fan had seen an Elon workout. It meant playing hard. It meant giving it all you could give. Elon sports demanded 110%. On the track and on the court, in the locker room and in the weight room, in the classroom and in the fitness center, Elon Athletes gave it there utmost. With thousands of fans or none at all, Everyone got..... A Piece of the Action.

—Leigh Worlds

The ultimate test of of dedication and determination, taking on the challenge of wearing an Elon uniform and striving to succeed.

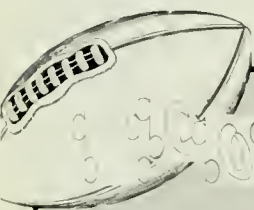

First Down

Football is definitely an American sport. It is a spectator sport that is played by many at varying levels. All the way from pop-warner teams to professional teams, these male athletes gain skills, bruises, and in some severe cases, broken bones. These athletes are tough, determined, and role models for many. The Elon Fighting Christians get up for early morning practices, just make dinner at Harden after long evening practices, practice in all weather conditions, and lift weights until their muscles ache. What is all this for? For some just the satisfaction of playing at the college level is enough, some do it for themselves, others for their family, some for scholarships but most do it to win.

The Elon football team was under a new coaching staff this year and boy did the student body see the effects. Walking around campus, many football players were seen with casts on varying parts of the body and many of these injuries came from just tough practice days. The new coaching staff, headed by Al Seagraves, put the men to work but it definitely paid off in the end. The Elon football team finished with the same record as last year but the team showed much advancement in their skill level. —Kim Jacklitch

The game winning goal! Forward Patricia Clark plays an excellent offensive game and scored many goals throughout the season that won the game for the fighting Christians.

Shooting Stars

Soccer is a game of quick footwork, determination, speed and a will to win. The Fighting Christians possess all of these qualities. The soccer teams have long practices, full of drills, sprints and long—distance running. These players must stay in shape to keep their game up to its prime.

The women's soccer team had an excellent season with a record 10-4-2. These women played well together and it showed on the field. The defense kept opponents from scoring while the offense fought hard to score in tight situations. Overall the offense shot more on goal than most of their opponents.

The men's soccer team, however, didn't do as well as the women. Due to the loss of some key players last year, the team is young this year and the players will learn and grow together.

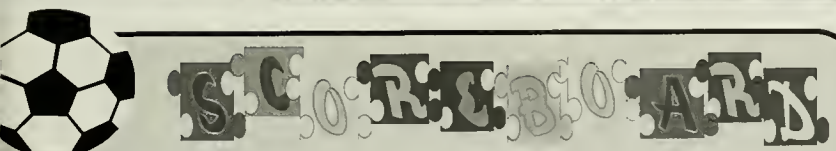

Overall, as the season progressed, the crowds got larger and the fans got louder. The interest in this spectator sport is definitely growing and in the years to come, Elon's players will once again dominate.

The Inside Pitch

Elon's baseball team lost many key players last year but also received many excellent transfers and freshmen who proved themselves this season. The baseball team, under new Head Coach Mike Kennedy, had an extremely tough schedule this season preparing for the switch to Division I, but the team stepped up to the challenge and played excellent all season.

The softball team is still a very young one (with only one senior) but definitely one to watch for. Last year, the women finished with a winning record of 31-13 and this year the ladies aimed for the conference championship. Pitcher Cheryl Denny led the team with her excellent pitching skills but the whole team chipped in and proved that they can work very well together.

Watch out for the Elon softball team, because they are on the rise and next year should prove to be even better because all but one player should return.

Andrew Brickey

She's out! Robin Isley makes a nice catch and gets her opponent out. She very rarely let her team down.

Pump It Up

Both the men's and women's basketball teams began their seasons strong with many victories over some tough competitors, but both finished sixth in the field of eight in the South Atlantic Conference, before the conference tournament.

For the men, senior Seth Chambless stepped up this season as point guard and was one of the leaders in assists and steals in the SAC. Chris Kiger was the leading scorer in many of the Fightin' Christians' victories and reached a milestone of 1,000 points in his basketball career. Many other players contributed to the outstanding playing of the men's team with excellent defense and good ball-handling skills, making good decisions that brought enthusiasm and excitement into the Alumni Gym for every home game. These men ended up finishing first at the conference tournament and are looking bright for next year with all their young talent.

The women also had their eyes set on a conference title but due to the losses in some key games, the ladies didn't do as well as they had hoped. The women's basketball team had an excellent season with key players Lakia Hayes, Anne Monstead and Jodie Hallett averaging over 10 points per game. Many other players also contributed to the second placement at the conference tournament with determination.

He shoots, he scores! Junior Chris Kiger takes a shot over the defender and sinks another one for the Fightin' Christians----

Help! Forward Jami White looks for another teammate to pass to. She was a great asset on offense for the lady Fightin' Christians.

Running Out of Time

Elon's athletic department is seeking volleyball and cross country players who possess the following qualities: determination, commitment, time and a will to win.

This ad could have been used when looking for Elon volleyball and cross country players. These athletes go through long, strenuous practices full of sprints and jogging. The volleyball players serve, pass and spike ball after ball until almost perfection is achieved. The matches and meets are challenging and require much preparation but the rewards of playing a sport in college and winning a game is satisfaction that overcomes the pain of practice.

The volleyball team was a very young one this year with no seniors. These young players had to pull together and rose to the challenge, ending with a great season.

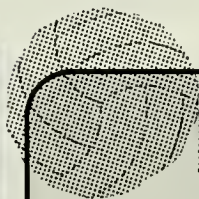

Last year, the men's cross country team was the top one going into the finals. Coming into the season this year, the cross country teams were confident that they would be the leaders in the conference once again.

Run boy run! This runner keeps his great runner form throughout the race against Carson-Newman.

Running for the gold! Meg Crawford keeps a steady pace throughout the meet against Carson-Newman. She was one of Elon's fastest women's cross country runners

First-Come, First-Served

The sport of tennis is definitely one of the most challenging and demanding of the individual sports. For the Fightin' Christian tennis teams, their lives consist of constant practice, competition, and travel for a few months of the school year, finding time somewhere for classes and schoolwork.

Elon's players, both men and women, have a lot to live up to because Elon's tennis program has a great history. The '97 teams consisted of players with determination, a great serve, skilled forehand and backhands and strategies that helped them win matches.

Both teams lived up to the challenge finishing with good seasons and playing with heart and skill. They also feel confident that the future is looking good for them.

Golf & Intramurals Get Down

Golf is a quiet sport that takes much practice, perserverance, patience and determination. The Fightin' Christians golf team traveled from course to course throughout the season coming out with many victories. This year the sport opened up to women, and Elon is very excited about the future that lies ahead for the lady golfers.

Intramurals are a fun and enthusiastic way to get involved on campus. Anyone that wants to become involved can get a team together or just show up at the interest meeting for a particular sport and join a team that needs extra players. The prize for the first place team is usually a T-shirt, but the fun that is present by participating is the reason students join.

Sometimes the Elon cheerleaders aren't the main focus on the field or court, but no one realizes how much time and effort is put into cheering. These men and women practice for long hours sweating until their muscles are aching and the cheer is perfected.

<-- Elon is #1. Sebrina Skrabak's enthusiastic school spirit could be seen all the time.

The Final Piece.....A New Beginning

Throughout 1996 and 1997, Elon College was presented with many obstacles and overcame them all. But one of the toughest decisions made by the college was the tearing down of the Haggard Avenue House in order to make room for the development of the new science building. The 92-year-old house has been the home to Elon's business law professor Dr. Robert Baxter, the Honors Program and for departmental offices. Before its destruction, the house was a residence hall for freshmen. Judging by the increase in students, majors, and programs at Elon, it's evident that the college is breaking ground for more improvements. Elon's pieces of its vision are falling into place.

Mark McAdams, who laid the first brick for West Building in 1906, was the first honoree to scoop a shovel of dirt for the new science building ground-breaking. Here we see John R. Kernodle taking his turn.

The 1997 men's basketball team won the South Atlantic Conference Championship and had the opportunity to compete in the NCAA Division II tournament. Here the team boards the bus for the first big game. Unfortunately, they lost to Elizabeth City, 77-70.

Elon began construction on the new $2.5 million dollar Greek housing project located adjacent to the already existent Greek Court. Here are three of the six houses in progress.
